Ahmed Al Maghribi Opaline Wave EDP: A Refined Citrus Floral Scent

Ahmed Al Maghribi Opaline Wave EDP Perfume 100 ML presents a sophisticated fragrance profile built around bright citrus, elegant roses, and rich oriental accents. At Fragsook, Opaline Wave stands out for its polished combination of freshness and depth, making it an appealing choice for fragrance enthusiasts who enjoy modern Middle Eastern perfumery with a luxurious character.

At Fragsook, the opening of Ahmed Al Maghribi Opaline Wave EDP creates an energetic first impression through citron, Calabrian bergamot, and Sicilian orange. These citrus notes bring sparkling freshness and a clean character to the fragrance, creating a lively introduction that feels refined, bright, and particularly suitable for daytime wear.

The heart of Opaline Wave EDP develops into a distinctly floral composition. At Fragsook, the combination of rose, Bulgarian rose, and neroli gives the fragrance an elegant and sophisticated personality. The layered rose accords add richness, while neroli contributes a fresh floral quality, creating a smooth transition between the vibrant opening and deeper base.

At Fragsook, the dry-down of Ahmed Al Maghribi Opaline Wave introduces a more luxurious oriental character through agarwood, ambergris, and musk. Oud provides woody depth, ambergris adds warmth and texture, while musk creates a soft finish. Together, these base notes give the fragrance greater presence and a memorable character suitable for evenings and special occasions.

For fragrance enthusiasts exploring Ahmed Al Maghribi Opaline Wave EDP 100 ML, Fragsook offers a curated selection of authentic perfumes, attars, and deodorants from international and Middle Eastern brands. Its citrus, rose, neroli, oud, ambergris, and musk composition makes Opaline Wave an interesting addition to collections focused on elegant and sophisticated fragrances.
